BELIEVED DEAD; RETURNS WEALTHY

Ole Fisher, Thought Killed
In Alaska, Visits Old Wittenberg Friends

Ole Fisher, who went to Alaska at the time of the Klondyke gold rush in 1898 and who was later reported dead, now turns up alive and well and according to all reports immensely wealthy. Fisher left this city with a party of gold seekers for Alaska twenty years ago. His home was in Wittenberg. A few years later news of his death reached here and he soon was forgotten. To the surprise of all his old time friends Mr. Fisher appeared in Wittenberg a few days ago and the Enterprise of that city tells the story:

Twenty years ago, Ole Fisher left this place for Alaska, along with a number of others from Rhinelander in the big rush to Klondyke upon the discovery of gold in that far-off country. A few years later, Rhinelander papers carried the news of his and his companions' death in a big snow slide. This news reached here and also Manitowoc, where his folks live. Since then no one here or there ever thought of counting him as among the living. A few weeks ago, however, Ole Fisher showed up in his old home community near Manitowoc to the great surprise and pleasure of his people. They then learned that the story of the snow slide was not entirely correct in every statement. A snow slide there was at the time, as old timers remember reading, which buried and killed 104 of a large number of people on their way to the gold fields, but Ole happened to be one of the few escaping. He and the survivors worked two full days and nights to rescue the 104 that were buried. Mr. Fisher is able to tell of many other exciting experiences in Alaska, and one gathers from his stories, modestly told, that his twenty years' stay in Alaska is, now bearing the fruitage of a very fine competence. His friends were glad to hear he is now engaged in extensive gold mining operations, which last winter netted him as high as $15,000 a week. His accounts of how fortunes were made and lost, and vivid descriptions of life in that country which people generally are wont to think is bleak, but which he says is agreeable, were most interesting.

Mr. Fisher arrived in Wittenberg last Saturday afternoon, for a visit with his old boyhood friend, L. A. Larson, and with other friends and acquaintances made during his few years' residence here in the middle part of the nineties. He used to work in the Johnson & Loberg meat market and on Saturdays often assisted Mr. Wilder in the barber shop. Although not an old man yet, by any means, his hair is snow white as the result of a severe attack of typhoid fever. He looks well, rugged and strong, and is chock full of ambition and energy. He left Monday morning for Seattle, Washington, to return to Alaska, which he claims is the best country in the world. He intends to come back next fall to spend the winter in Wisconsin despite the fact that during 20 years in Alaska he claims never to have seen weather such as we now have. His home is in Fairbanks. Nothing would please him more, he said, than to have Wisconsin friends call on him for a 500-mile boat ride on the fast moving current of the Yukon, a great, majestic stream passing through a country teeming with game. But it goes without saying that the visit should be timed for summer, a glorious season in Alaska.

RED CROSS HERE REQUIRES MONEY

Big Drive For Funds For Local Chapter To be Started Soon

One thousand dollars a month is required to successfully carry on the work of the Red Cross Chapter in this city. In order to secure this amount it has been decided by Red Cross leaders here to shortly institute a drive in which everyone will be asked to help. The date of this drive has not been determined but will probably take place within a few weeks.

The idea held by many that the National Red Cross contributes to the maintenance of the local chapter is erroneous. Not only does each chapter defray its own expenses but is also compelled to subscribe to the support of the national society. The local chapter is far from being in a flourishing financial condition and the public must come to its relief.

Rhinelander women are devoting much of their time each week to Red Cross work and the headquarters in the city hall present a busy scene, especially during the afternoons, when the largest number of workers are present. Large shipments of knitted goods, surgical dressings and other articles have been sent to the soldiers at the front by the Rhinelander chapter.

PARKER WORKING ON NEW POTATO

The following item appeared in special edition of the Good Roads For Wisconsin at the annual banquet of the County Highway Commissioners at the Park Hotel, Madison, during the last session of the road school:

"Mr. Fewhairs Exist Parker Monday and Tuesday in Madison. F. E. is busily engaged in perfecting a new brand of Oneida county potatoes which have noses as well as eyes. When raised in alternate rows with the limberger cheese bush, moisture is produced in the dryest seasons, crop failures being unknown. Mr. Parker is known as the Burbank of the North."

AFTER MEN FOR POLISH FORCES

Lieut. John Deptalo, P. A. F., who is stationed in the Polish recruiting headquarters in Stevens Point, was in Rhinelander Saturday endeavoring to enlist young Polish men for the Polish forces in France. It is said that he secured two or three enlistments here.

Lieut. Deptalo was attired in the blue gray uniform of the Polish service and came in for much attention from people on the streets. Within a short time the young of ficer will return to the camp of the Polish overseas forces in Niagara-on-the-Lake from where ten battalions of troops, comprising the Polish legion, are to be sent to France soon. He plans another trip to Rhinelander next month.

In Antigo Sunday Lieut. Deptalo spoke before St. Hyacinth's congregation and among other things said: "Absolutism, threatened and undermined by the forces of progress, must for its very preservation be armed for battle. The Polish army in France is to aid the stricken world in demonstrating to Germany that the doctrine of a superhuman state unfettered by morality or law, cannot become a reality. The rising tide of democracy is at present washing the foot steps of every throne in the world. France, imbued with the spirit of liberty, has financed the work of the Polish army which is approved of by every allied power, except Russia. Between the soldiers of America and Britain the forces of dismembered Poland will fight. We must not flinch from the sacrifices that lie in front of us until we have finished the work for which innumerable men and women have suffered."

THE NEW YEAR'S GREATEST LESSON

There is a pack of fools in this country that is equally as great a menace in these war times as any set of spies or traitors. These fools have been and are now, for that matter, telling the women of America that in order to win the war they must stop spending money.

Now aside from its fighting forces, the present greatest asset that America has in this war is money; its ability not only to pay its own war bills of millions of dollars per day, but to loan staggering amounts to our Allies, meet our war taxes, buy Government's war bonds, give to war and home activities, and pay good wages to labor. All this takes vast sums of money. From where must this money come? Entirely from our industries going full tilt, keep business up, not to its normal point, but beyond, and money circulates freely from the top to the bottom. Everybody gets his or her share. But those industries can only be kept going if the public buys what they produce. And who is the "public"? Almost entirely the women, for statistics show that the purchasing power of this country lies in their hands. They spend 90 cents of every dollar expended. Suppose, then, that this buying power stops buying. Does it not follow, as night follows day, that the industries are crippled, business halts, money ceases to circulate freely? And pray, then, where would our money come from to pay the expense of the war.

Nor has anyone, save this pack of fools, asked women to stop buying or spending. The President has not. Plainly did he say that the greatest war measure is to keep our industries going. The Food Administrator never asked it. As plain as ever: only don't waste; and eat more of one thing and less of another. Where confusion has entered into the question is in the wrong acceptance of the word "economy." As a nation we have never liked this word, but that is only because we have never understood it. Now true economy, as Ruskin has so well said, no more means saving money than it does spending money. It means spending or saving to the best advantage. It is good management; in other words, a management born of prudence and free from extravagance or waste. And it is in that last little five letter word that the whole crux of the situation lies, and that is the greatest lesson that we can learn this year.

True economy does not lie in cutting down necessities. It does not mean to stop using white flour. It means not to waste any, and to use other flours more. It does not mean to stop eating meat. It means that we shall not waste meat, and eat less of certain kinds and put into their places those substitutes of which there is an abundance. It means not that we must stop buying coal. It means that we must not waste coal; that we should keep our houses at 65 instead of 75 degrees. It means that we should not leave unnecessary electric lights burning. In every phase of life, true economy simply means that we study needs and waste and stop the latter. That is not easy, because waste has been our besetting sin. But now is the time to come to our senses and stop it, both as the most efficient war measure that those of us left behind can follow and as the greatest after-the-war lesson that we can learn. We are keyed to waste; we should be keyed to conservation. That is the change that is asked of us—yes, required of us. For the longer the war lasts the keener will grow the need, and the sooner we get into our heads, clear and true, the lesson of wise thrift, the better it will be for us as individuals and as a nation.—The Ladies' Home Journal.

MAYOR CLARK NOT TO RUN

Rev. Grant V. Clark will not be a candidate for re-election in April. He has received a call from the First Congregational church of Ladysmith to become its pastor and has accepted the call. Mr. Clark received a call from that church nearly two years ago, just after he was elected mayor. Recently the pulpit of the Ladysmith church became vacant again, and the church extended another call to Mr. Clark, offering him $500 more per year than they have ever paid a pastor. They are also to remodel their church building and considerably enlarge its capacity. Mr. Clark expects to move to Ladysmith in May, after his term of office as mayor is up. He informed a representative of the New North that he expects to retain his property on the north side, and hopes some day to return there to live. "I am very much in love with farm life, and it is hard for me to leave Rhinelander. I have never thought more of the people of Rhinelander than I do at the present time," said Mr. Clark, "and, of course, my circle of acquaintances is constantly widening. Rhinelander is a fine town, with a good future. I have greatly enjoyed my duties as mayor, and it has been a wonderful education for me." "Of course, I think Ladysmith is one of the best towns in northern Wisconsin, and I consider the opportunity there an unusual one. I shall always have a deep interest in Rhinelander, and the hundreds of people here, in every walk of life, with whom I am personally acquainted."

IS OLD SOLDIER BUT NOT CITIZEN

Frank Markle, Civil War Veteran, Can't Understand Why He Must Register

There are probably few in this city, who would recognize Frank Markle as the name of any of their acquaintances and yet what man or what woman or child, for that matter, residing here, has not seen "Old Frank" plodding along the street with his wheel barrow or raking leaves from some lawn? Frank is fully aware that the United States is at war with Germany and says he is ready whenever this country calls him to do his part with musket and bayonet. Just now he is wondering why he must register as an alien enemy.

Frank came to this country, a mere boy, and at the outbreak of the Civil War, enlisted in the Union Army at New York City and served this country throughout that struggle no doubt just as faithfully as many a natural born American. He never heard of the pension law until long after the war was over and then some unprincipled person succeeded in defrauding him of his discharge papers. On account of a mistake having been made in his name at the time of enlistment it has been impossible to secure the necessary proof of service so that a pension could be obtained for him. He failed to become naturalized through neglect. He calls the United States his country and says he has no other and is unable to comprehend now why he should not be recognized as a subject of Uncle Sam when he has given such positive proof of his loyalty.

Frank is now accorded none of the privileges of a citizen and yet when a man has offered his youth and life in the service of a country, what greater proof of fidelity and patriotism could be required?

MARKHAM TO BE AT MADISON MEET

E. H. Markham, one of the prominent grocery men of this city, is planning to attend the Third Commercial and Industrial Congress at Madison, February 22.

A. T. Van Scoy, member of the State Council of Defense and food administrator for Milwaukee county, will preside, and many of the county food administrators and prominent grocers and food distributors of the state are expected to be present.

Among the problems to be threshed out will be those pertaining to the cash and carry system. They are: "Should the milkman charge five cents for each time he delivers a quart of milk? Or the baker five cents every time he leaves a loaf of bread on his route?"

"Should the laboring man pay 3 per cent additional for credit every Saturday night when he pays his grocery bill? Should a certain percentage be added for credit, or a discount allowed for cash?"

"Should each family have one free delivery a day, or two free deliveries a week, or none at all?"

These and other problems are puzzling the local food administrators, and grocers, butchers, bakers, and other food distributors.

LARGE CROWD AT MASQUERADE

One of the largest crowds to ever attend a dance in this city patronized the annual masquerade of the Royal Neighbors at the Armory Monday night. The Royal Neighbors are peerless entertainers and their masquerades are always features of the social season. This year's ball was conceded the most successful ever given by them. That everybody had a pleasant time goes without saying.

The music by the Oneida orchestra was exceptionally good and came in for numerous encores.

ONEIDA SCHOOLS WIN SEAL PRIZE

Rural Children Lead State In Sale Of Red Cross Xmas Stickers

The three Wisconsin counties which made the largest sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals in their rural district schools last December and which are therefore winners of the prize of free public health nursing service for one month each offered by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association are Oneida, Dodge and Columbia counties. The compilation of returns has just been completed and it is announced that Oneida takes first place with a rural sale of 4.3 per capita. Dodge is second with a sale of 4.1 and Columbia third with a sale of 3.1 Walworth and Chippewa are a close fourth and fifth.

Owing to weather conditions it has been decided to start the work in Dodge county and extend it from there to Columbia county leaving the more northern Oneida county until later in the season. Weather conditions and the difficulties of travel are also responsible in part for the adoption of a unique plan by which the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association is utilizing its special training course in public health nursing and is sending a force of four nurses into Dodge county for an intensive ten days' campaign instead of one nurse for one month. Miss Nelly Van Koby, one of the supervising nurses with the State Association, will be in charge of the group and her three assistants will be stationed in various parts of the county, each one working out from the center to which she is assigned.

School inspection will be the chief feature of the work which has the cordial cooperation of the county superintendent of schools. There will also be mothers' meetings at the schools and general public meetings with demonstrations of home nursing. Miss Florence Herrick has been assigned to Beaver Dam and will devote all her time to that city. Mrs. Elsie Jensen and Miss Sophia Strick will make their headquarters in several smaller cities in turn and an effort will be made to reach the rural schools if the roads will permit.

The purpose of this demonstration work is to show in a practical way the value of public health nursing service to rural communities and to stimulate interest in the permanent employment of a county nurse by each of the counties. As part of this campaign, the ultimate object of which is to supply every county in the state with this service, the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association will send Miss Martha Erdman, a graduate nurse who has been taking special training in public health work with the state association, to Grant county for a month's work. Beginning about February 20. This service will be given in recognition of the constantly splendid support given the state work by Grant county in the annual seal sale.

The establishment of a new rural mail delivery route out of the Harshaw postoffice is being considered by the postal department. FIRST SOLDIER COMPANY HERE ORGANIZED IN 1898

It was during the days of the Spanish-American war, twenty years ago, that steps were first taken here toward the organization of the local military company, which later became Company L. The late F. M. Mason headed the movement and the first meeting for the organization of the company was held the latter part of April 1898. Regarding this meeting the New North of May 5, 1898 contains the following:

In answer to the call of F. M. Mason a large crowd gathered at the court house last Thursday evening to form an auxiliary company of the Wisconsin National Guard.

The talk of the meeting was the principal topic for conversation on the streets and before the meeting was called the court house was packed to the doors.

Mr. Mason addressed the gathering and in plain terms stated the object he had in mind. He said that he had written the adjutant-general of the state relative to the forming of the company and received notice that should one be organized here the state would recognize it at the first opportunity. Mr. Mason stated that he has positive assurance from Adjutant General Boardman that the company will be admitted to permanent membership in the state guard. Numerous efforts have been made here at different times to secure some encouragement along this line from the state but heretofore the officers in charge could make no promises, and the matter was dropped. Mr. Mason is to be congratulated upon the success of his efforts. The following men signed the enrollment blank Thursday evening amid enthusiastic applause:

At a meeting of the company last night twenty-four new names were added to the roll, swelling the list from fifty-two to seventy-six men. Mr. Mason will send the roll to the Adjutant General today.

It was not until July 30, 1898, that the company was actually mustered in as Co. H, 5th Reg., Wis. Nat. Guard. The New North of August 4 gives the following account of the company's organization:

Co. H Wis. Nat. Guard

According to notice given in the city papers, on Saturday evening last Col. W. H. Patten, Assistant Adjutant General, mustered the local company which was enrolled in this city for the new National Guard.

The company to the number of sixty assembled in the New Grand Opera House and "fell in" and were inspected by Col. Patten, and in the presence of a large number of ladies and gentlemen, took the oath which was administered by Justice of the Peace Mason.

The commissioned officers are

Captain, E. O. Brown, 1st. Lieut., D. H. Walker, 2nd. Lieut., Thos. F. Brennan.

Col. Patten complimented the company on their fine appearance, and those who have had charge of the enlistment and preparations of the company and in charge of the details of the muster, on the completeness of all details relating to the company. There was no hitch in the business from beginning to end such as usually occur at the muster in of a company.

The muster rolls were made out by City Clerk Carr, and were pronounced the finest ever filed with the state.

The Colonel has informed the writer that it is the decision of the Governor to make this a permanent company in the W. N. G. Drums, equipment and uniforms will be issued to the company immediately, and before the end of next week the city will "echo to the martial tread" of citizen soldiers. The company was given the letter "H".

ON EQUAL STATUS

Under the heading "Christian Science in the Navy," the New York World on Tuesday printed the following as an editorial:

"The appointment by Secretary Daniels of a Christian Scientist as navy chaplain denotes a significant change in the public attitude toward the faith founded by Mrs. Eddy.

"Could such a selection of a spiritual advisor have been conceived of in Dewey's navy? Christian Science then and long after was anathema to the regular religious denominations of the country. Legislation was invoked to restrain it, medical societies prosecuted the practitioners, and it was made to bear the brunt of a powerful opposition everywhere. Now the Government gives it full recognition and accords its readers an equal status with the ministers of other creeds. Besides the navy chaplain, there are two Christian Science chaplains in the army.

"So have the old antagonisms subsided and the earlier intolerance given way under the spirit of religious freedom. History has repeated itself once more, and the new kirk fought its way to a place alongside the old kirk. It has been an interesting process, and the outcome is notable as an illustration of the liberalizing tendencies of modern opinion, whether religious or political."

Matt Kristensen, Chevrolet agent, has just received a carload of 1918 Chevrolets, the first shipment of these cars to arrive in Rhinelander this year. The new Chevrolet is a splendid car and should meet with favor among auto fanciers. Mr. Kristensen says that he looks for a good sale of Chevrolets here during the coming spring.

Al Hartwig, one of the old residents of Oneida county, was in Rhinelander Monday shaking hands with friends. For many years Mr. Hartwig has resided on a farm near Dam Lake but has just sold his property to E. L. Burrell of Chicago. Mr. Burrell plans to convert the place into a summer home and will build several cottages there for the use of himself and Chicago friends.

EAGLE RIVER

Wm. Beyer, one of the old residents of Eagle River was taken to Oshkosh Monday by Sheriff Jackson and Jack Brady. Mr. Beyer had been confined to his home for several months by illness and of late his condition became such that it was not advisable to leave him alone, in the care of his aged wife. Notwithstanding that the thermometer in town registered from 30 to 35 below Monday morning, Herman Ulrich reported seeing a robin apparently undisturbed by the chilly atmosphere. It was headed south though which may have accounted for its disregard for the climatic conditions here.

Under-Sheriff, Chas. Hanke left yesterday for Fort Sheridan to deliver August Johnson to the military authorities. Johnson registered in Chicago and should have answered the draft there but evaded it, coming to Phelps where he has been employed for several months. Last week he decided to give himself up and did so to Jerry Holland, who saw that he was turned over to the proper authorities here with the above result.

Eagle River friends received announcements last week of the marriage of Miss Rose Hibberman to Carl E. Day, at Portland, Ore., on Jan. 20. The bride is well known here, having at one time been a resident of Eagle River and vicinity.

Jos. Alcock was an arrival from Penn., Wednesday to again take charge of the dairy herd of G. F. Sanborn. Mr. Alcock held the same position a year or so ago when Mr. Sanborn was operating the Dairy Dollar farm which he has since sold. Geo. Ball returned Saturday from a visit with relatives in the western part of the state as well as a trip to Rochester, where he was given the pleasing information at the Mayo hospital, that in his injuries received a couple of months ago in falling from the roof of his new house, nothing had occurred to prevent a full recovery in a few weeks. Hans Christofferson of Washburn, was an arrival here Wednesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bowen and other old time friends while taking a short vacation from his duties as carpenter at the great Dupont powder plant at Barksdale located four miles from Washburn.

In letters to Eagle River friends, Chris Rasmussen, one of the Vilas county volunteers last June, announces his arrival in France early in January.

HANSON WAS NOT TUSCANIA VICTIM

That Henry Hanson of this city, who was on the transport Tuscania when the vessel was wrecked by a submarine, was among the survivors, was made known Saturday afternoon in a telegram received by District Attorney A. J. O'Melia from Congressman I. L. Lenroot. Hanson is a member of the first sanitary squad, thirty-second division. He enlisted with the sanitary corps organized in Rhinelander last June and was transferred to the thirty-second division while in Camp MacArthur.

Among the list of those on the Tuscania Hanson is recorded as Harry Hanson. While his name is Henry, it is said that his friends familiarly call him Harry. He is well known about this city, having previous to his enlistment been a driver on one of the city street sprinklers. Hanson is believed to have been the only Rhinelander man on board the Tuscania.

MARRIAGE CASES

Governor Philipp has sent out the following order in reference to the classification of registered men married since May 18:

"Where government appeal agents have not entered an appeal in cases of marriages since May 18 which have been granted a deferred classification by the local board, please direct the clerk to enter the appeal by direction of the governor's office and forward the cases forthwith to the proper district board."

This appears to mean that deferred classification given to recently married men by the local exemption boards are not final and that the cases must be passed on by the district boards.

"For the cause that lacks assistance;
For the wrong that needs resistance;
For the future in the distance
And the good that we can do."

The city hall flag pole was the last thing to go up and the first thing to come down.

As this awful war proceeds the great and noble work of the Red Cross becomes more and more apparent.

Every person who has contributed to the Red Cross may rightfully be proud that he has helped in this splendid undertaking.

While we have no sympathy with any pro-German talk, we would dislike to see Governor Philipp succeed in getting any state law passed to prevent honest criticism of public officials.

Take away the right to criticize and you remove the stimulus which creates the desire in officials to do their best.

Wisconsin has grown restive over the delay in selecting a worthy successor to Senator Husting. And the responsibility for that delay rests at the door of the governor of the great state which sustained the loss and which must now wait no one knows how long before his successor may be sent to Washington to represent Wisconsin.—Fond du Lac Commonwealth, Rep.

We cannot believe the state law makers will go to the legislature and take away the right of their constituents to choose their U. S. Senator and give this power to Governor Philipp.

What has Emmanuel L. Philipp done, as governor of Wisconsin, that he should claim to be more competent than the people to choose a U. S. Senator?

Beware of the officer who is afraid of the votes of the people at the polls.

Some interesting facts are coming to light regarding the movement to give increased powers to the state government to deal with individuals and institutions in connection with questions arising out of the war.

It will be recalled that when the publishers of The Watertown Times, a patriotic little paper that had criticized Gov. Philipp, were called to Madison by the state council of defense, they found themselves confronted with Gov. Philipp and Attorney General Haven, as well as Chairman Swenson at the head of the state council of defense.—Milwaukee Journal.

CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM
There have recently been two outstanding illustrations of the value of constructive criticism. When the sudden and wholly unexpected order of Federal Fuel Administrator Garfield was announced, the conservative press of the entire country immediately pointed out some of its crudities, the difficulties involved in its successful operation in its original form, some of the injustices it imposed and changes required to correct defects and to make the order more readily workable. Many of the suggestions were adopted and greatly improved regulations have resulted. Criticisms of a purely petulant and fault-finding character usually defeat their own purposes, but those that are broad and constructive frequently bring about highly desirable results.—St. Paul Dispatch.

WILSON ON PEACE
As another step in the effort to bring about peace, President Wilson appeared before congress Monday and delivered a rejoinder to the recent speeches of the German and Austrian leaders concerning peace terms.

Denouncing the attitude of Count von Hertling as that of the military masters of Germany still thirsting for conquest, and attributing to Count Czernin, the Austrian premier, an acceptance of the fundamentals of world peace, the president re-stated the conditions upon which the United States, and presumably the allies, would be willing to enter into a formal discussion of peace.

He said:
"Our whole strength will be put into this war of emancipation—emancipation from the threat and attempted mastery of selfish groups of autocratic rulers—whatever the difficulties and present partial delays. Having set our hand to the task of achieving it, we shall not turn back."

The president's appearance before congress was an unexpected one. No one had any intimation until shortly before his arrival that Mr. Wilson intended to make the journey to Capitol Hill.

The address deserves high rank among the president's notable state papers upon American participation in the war, by virtue of its clear and lofty conception of the ideals of liberty and justice to the common man.

In the special election for assemblyman Tuesday, wherever a head stuck up in favor of Philipp's appointment of a U. S. senator, it was knocked down.

Edward L. Kelley of Manitowish, an out spoken opponent of a public election for U. S. Senator, was defeated. Mr. Kelley was one of the three who voted in the county board of Manitowish county to favor Philipp's plan of appointing a senator, down with the self chosen leaders who wish to deprive the people of their rights.

ELECTION RESULTS
In special elections for four assemblymen Tuesday, a Socialist won in Wausau in a fight between two candidates in which the war was an issue, a Democrat was chosen at Manitowish with the aid of Socialists, a Republican was chosen at Neenah by 19 votes in a wet and dry contest, and at Hurley there was no opposition to the Republican candidate.
Herman Marth, Socialist, was chosen assemblyman in the Wausau district of Marathon county in a hard fought contest. Marth was elected by 800 over E. A. Dunn, Republican. With one country precinct missing, the vote was 2,100 for Marth and 1,350 for Dunn.

BUYS SEED CORN FOR THE FARMERS

County Agent Juday Purchases 150 Bushels for Spring Distribution

Acting upon the advice of the County Council of Defense, County Representative Juday has purchased 150 bushels of seed corn for the farmers of the county this spring.

100 bushels are Pride of the North, grown in South Dakota. It has a germination test of 96% and a purity test of 99.8%. Pride of the North is a yellow dent corn with a large leafy stalk and makes an excellent silage variety. It is almost as early as Wisconsin No. 8 and very much resembles it. It will not ripen though except in a very favorable season. It can be bought at the office of the County Representative at the court house for $6 per bushel.

The other 50 bushels are Longfellow Flint. It was grown in Massachusetts. It is a leafy variety and has a large stalk for a flint. It will ripen in this county in an average season. This corn was shipped February 6th, but has not arrived as yet. It will sell for about $5 per bushel.

Any farmer of the county can buy this corn but he should put in his order soon for the supply is over half taken already. If necessary to put in a second order the prices will be just about doubled.

This Sunday at 11 "The Master's Joy."

"The Men who Crucified Jesus and their modern representatives" is the theme of a series of evening sermons during Lent. PHELPS IS MAIN OFFICE

A reorganization of the Hackley-Phelps-Bonnell has been made and a new disposition of stock accomplished whereby the main offices formerly located at Grand Rapids, Mich., have been transferred to Phelps, where the company's new mill was recently put in operation. Under the new arrangement Supt. C. M. Christiansen becomes general manager in place of Mr. Winchester. Miss Agnes Williams, for years head of the old Hackley office, is back again at Phelps in a similar position.

Despite the heavy loss sustained by the company in the fire that destroyed the mill and lumber yards last September, the new organization is in a flourishing condition with brilliant prospects before it. —Vilas County News.

NOT BROKE BUT IS BADLY BENT

Once more village wags have the opportunity to vent their wit on the city hall flag pole. The "old chestnut" again came in for public attention during the storm this forenoon. Unable to resist the terrific force of the fifty mile gale the top section of the pole bent downward like a sapling. How long the pole will remain in this ungainly position is a subject for conjecture. In the meantime the members of the I Told You So Club are having their inning.

TEN YEARS IN BUSINESS HERE

Ten years ago E. P. Laugesen, whose store is at 101 S. Stevens St., engaged in the clothing business in this city. He came from Clintonville where he was numbered among the leading business men. From the start he was a booster for Rhinelander and while he worked for its growth and prosperity his own business kept pace with the city's progress. Mr. Laugesen has a big trade and his is the only strictly cash clothing store in Rhinelander.

Besides keeping a fine stock of men's clothing, furnishings and shoes, Mr. Laugesen is agent for the famous Royal Tailored clothes, a line very popular here.

On the tenth anniversary of his mercantile career here Mr. Laugesen's friends take the opportunity to congratulate him and wish him many more years of successful business life.

HURLEY CLOSED SUNDAYS

For the first time in the history of Iron county the saloons were closed tight throughout the county on last Sunday and with a heatless day in effect on Monday the saloonkeepers were given an opportunity to enjoy a two days rest from their arduous labors says the Hurley Miner. The orders for the closing came direct from the governor and attorney general.

Since the Michigan law went into effect requiring the closing of saloons in that state on Sundays the saloons of Hurley have always done their best day's business on Sunday catering to the wants of Ironwood and Bessemer residents who were deprived of their supply of "fire-water" by the Michigan Sunday closing law and no doubt the local saloonkeepers will be the ones to feel this latest blow at their fast waning business the hardest. Should the Sunday closing law remain in effect in the county, we don't imagine that there will be such a scramble for aloon licenses in Hurley next July as there has been heretofore.

ALIENS MAY JOIN ARMY

The following correspondence has taken place between the provost marshal general's office and the governor's office:

Q. Can any alien (not enemy alien), who waives exemption from military service, be voluntarily inducted into such branches of the service as are open for such induction?

A. In reply, I beg to say that aliens, other than enemy aliens, may waive the exemption to which they would otherwise be entitled, and having done so, they are to be treated as other enlisted men. Bulgarians and Turks, to whom you also refer, are not alien enemies, although they are the allies of our enemies. No regulations have been issued which would prevent them from waiving alienage. They can therefore do so, and in consequence be inducted into military service.

Early Day Buttons.
The ancients lacked buttons—one wonders, indeed, how they got along without them—but evidently they possessed studs of modern pattern, such as those with which we fasten our cuffs and collars. And, in truth, they did even have a kind of button (though not sewn on), which fastened garments with a pin and hook exactly in the way our brooches and clasp pins operate.—Exchange.

When Banks Are Closed, Holidays That Delay World's Business

New York City's Financial District Decorated in Honor of a Foreign War Mission.

A Venetian Holiday Regatta on the Grand Canal.

Only 84 Days in the Year in Which the World's Business Is Not Interrupted Somewhere by Holidays and Sundays.

* CURIOUS FACTS ABOUT *
* THE WORLD'S HOLIDAYS. *
* There is no national legal holiday in the United States. *
* Massachusetts does not observe New Year's Day as a legal holiday. *
* Five Christian countries do not observe Christmas as a legal holiday. *
* New Year's Day is the only holiday observed throughout the world. *
* Eleven different dates are observed as New Year's Day in different parts of the world. *
* International business will be interfered with by holidays or Sundays on 231 days in 1918, of these 261 days being holidays. *
* This leaves only 84 days in which universal banking business is possible. *
* November, with 26 holidays in different parts of the world, leads the months. *
* March, with 19, has the fewest holidays. *
* Brazil leads the nations of the world, with 84 holidays. *
* The United States comes next, with 54. *

By GARRET SMITH.
WHILE man plays or prays the world's business will be interfered with on 231 days during 1918. In other words, there will be only 84 days in this coming year that are not Sundays or special holidays in one or more important commercial regions of the earth.

The growth of international finance has made the world's aggregate of closed days a serious factor and an expensive one. Not until now, however, has any attempt been made to compile an exhaustive list of holidays for the guidance of bankers and merchants. This task has just been completed by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York city. The results have been published in a booklet that should be a valuable addition to the reference library of every bank in the country doing more than a purely local business.

Contrary to the popular notion, the new democracies of the west enjoy a greater number of holidays than their sister nations of the eastern hemisphere. Of the 97 nations or dependencies listed Brazil leads, with 84 holidays. The United States, with 54, is a close second, although she, unlike Brazil, practically ignores the church days. Another popular delusion is shattered when we find that France has only 19 formally observed days and Italy only 23. We had supposed the Latins always outdid us in this particular. Among the other belligerents Germany, it is presumed, will observe 20 days next year, Great Britain 16, Japan 15 and Russia 17. In most of these countries numerous local holidays ordinarily observed have been abandoned during the war.

The study of holidays is fascinating to the historian. Those of our own country offer a particularly rich field. One of the first surprises in store for such a student is to learn that the United States has no national holiday. The reader will at once think of Fourth of July and of the President's Thanksgiving proclamation. But not even

FOOD HOARDERS

State Food Administrator Magnus Swenson is sweeping the entire state in his war on food hoarders says a Madison dispatch.

Secret service operatives, working under instructions from Mr. Swenson, uncovered 12,936 pounds of flour over and above the 30-day supply limit in 59 homes in Greenwood and Emerald, Wis. Household-ers were forced to return the surplus to the stores of the two cities, where they were given credit slips in return. The amount returned equals 259 sacks.

Operative Peter G. Drautzburg will be in another city. He and other operatives will visit every town in the state if it is necessary, until no citizen has more than a thirty-day supply.

Orders have gone out to all county food administrators to secure records of sales of flour and sugar. Purchasers of excessive supplies will be asked to return their surplus over 30 days' supply. This will be asked as a patriotic duty. In cases where this request is not complied with action leading to possible prosecution will follow.

MEATLESS DAYS FOR CATHOLICS

Lent began Wednesday, adding its meatless and catless regulations, for members of churches observing Lent, to those now in effect by order of the government.

Tuesday is government meatless day. Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are meatless days by ecclesiastical ordinance.

The Lenten rules further make Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of Holy Week, or the week before Easter, meatless. During the rest of the period of Lent only Wednesdays and Fridays will be meatless, added of course, to the government meatless Tuesdays.

Catholics will also be called on to make sacrifices for religious reasons which will have the effect of conserving other food. On each week day throughout Lent they are permitted to eat but one full meal, and meat may be served at only one meal each day. On Sundays meat may be served at all meals and the quantity is not restricted. The rule as to one meal a day is suspended in cases of invalids or persons working so hard at physical labor that full compliance with it might injure their health.

ORDER SUSPENDS
PERSONAL HEARING

All agencies charged with the administration of the Selective Service Law should entirely discourage personal hearings before district boards. The proper authorities are authorized to consider the facts of all cases presented to them in affidavit form and this method is encouraged. Individual hearings on claims must, in ordinary cases, require half an hour. It has been discovered in many cases that registrants after hearing are much less satisfied. The charge is often made that only those who can afford a trip to the office of the District Board can secure such a hearing. In the interest of absolute equality it has been ordered that registrants under the jurisdiction of the district board will not be granted hearings.

The Provost Marshal General, to remedy the situation, is directing government appeal agents to hear all claims of dissatisfaction. Where registrants have not fully presented their claims to the District Board or no information has developed, government appeal agents will have the registrant go to a member of the Legal Advisory Board and present the information in affidavit form for transmission to the District Board by any Local Board. If a claim is decided contrary to facts by the District Board the attention of the appeal agents must be directed to such by the Local Board. Otherwise the case is ended. Members of the Local Advisory Board are urged to co-operate to the fullest extent with the Government appeal agent in following the procedure of instructions.

FARMERS' WAR, SAYS LUTHER

Farmers should read the article by E. L. Luther in the February 1, number of Hoard's Dairyman, entitled "The Kaiser a Foe to All Americans." In his article he shows that before the war we were shipping annually about $1,000,000,000 worth of farm products abroad. When war began the cotton shipments were stopped for a time and cotton went down to almost nothing. We were all urged to buy a bale of cotton to keep the south from starving. Soon the roads were open and cotton began to move. The price went up and prosperity returned to the south. Wilson was asked to declare an embargo on all American shipments of food stuffs. He refused to do it. Suppose he had yielded and declared the embargo, what would have been the effect on cheese, meat, milk, wheat, potato and other crop prices? They would have gone down just as cotton did and ruin would have faced the northern farmers. When Wilson refused to establish the blockade Germany tried to do so and told us we could only ship one vessel load a week. Suppose we had declined to go to war, as some people think we should have and had said: "Oh, very well; if you think we should not ship goods why then we won't." What would have been the effect on the American farmer? There is no class of people in the country who would have suffered as much from such action as would the farmers and still we occasionally hear one say: "This is not the farmers' war." Do you believe it? Think it over carefully and see whether the farmer is interested or not.

Following the wedding a dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Foster, on Lake street.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL

Sunday School at ten o'clock prompt. Don't miss the adult classes.

Morning service at 11 o'clock. Subject: "A Communion Meditation." The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the close of the service.

Epworth League at 6:45 to be conducted by Missionary Department.

Evening service at 7:30 when the pastor will preach on "The Centuries Against the Hours."

Prayer meeting on Thursday eve at 7:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dedrick, on King street.

You are cordially invited to attend these services. Can anyone believing in God give any reason for not going to church? The church stands for the purity and sanctity of the home, the purity and rectitude of personal life, the highest morals, the best laws, it stands for justice, righteousness and good government, and it is the great instigator of all true benevolence.

The mission of the church is to save the world. Does it merit anything at the hands of its professed followers? If so, let us stand by it and attend its services. It is a duty as well as a pleasure. Individual responsibility will not down. Let us assume it cheerfully and respond valiantly. Be sure and go to church next Sunday.

AGAIN EXAMINE CLASS I MEN

Examination of Class I men of Oneida county's draft quota, which was suspended several days ago, has been resumed under instructions from Provost Marshal Crowder. Local exemption boards have received the following orders:

1. Physical examinations under the old regulations need not be repeated upon receipt of the new.
2. If during examination of deferred percentages of present quota new regulations are received, local boards will immediately proceed under new regulations and continue physical examinations until Class I is examined.
3. Medical Advisory Boards will adopt the new regulations for local boards and continue under them until a new manual intended for Medical Advisory Boards alone is received when they will thereafter continue according to the new manual.
4. When the vote of the local board is unanimous on either qualification, a case need not be sent before a Medical Advisory Board unless the local board so elects.

ON FAMILIAR TERMS

Two British soldiers went into a restaurant at Saloniki and asked for Turkey with Greece. The waiter said: "I'm sorry, gentlemen, but I can't serve," whereupon the Tommies cried: "Fetch the Bosphorus!" When that gentleman arrived and heard the complaint, the manager said: "Well, gentlemen, I don't want to Russia, but you cannot Rounania."

And so the poor Tommies had to go away Hungary.—Scottish-American.
